All remaining rejections/objections follow.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The weight ratio of bismaleimide powder to resin was not recited by the specification as filed and is therefore new matter. The term "ambient" was not disclosed by the specification as filed and this limitation is therefore new matter.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated or in the alternative obvious under 35 USC 103 by Boyd et al. (US 6,313,248).

See the previous Office action at the paragraph bridging pages 3 and 4. While it is not explicitly disclosed by Boyd that a separate phase exists after cure, both applicants and patentees use bismaleimides with a liquid coreactant under curing conditions and identical characteristics would reasonably appear inherent in both the reference and instant claims.

When the reference discloses all the limitations of a claim except a property or function, and the Examiner cannot determine whether or not the reference inherently possesses properties which anticipate or render obvious the claimed invention, basis exists for shifting the burden of proof to applicant. Note In re Fitzgerald et al. 619 F. 2d 67, 70, 205 USPQ 594, 596, (CCPA 1980). See MPEP § 2112-2112.02.

Applicant's arguments filed 5-23-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. As a range contains an infinite number of points, two points such as exist in an example cannot be said to provide support for a range. With re to "ambient", there is nothing in applicants examples about how applicants materials were blended and no conclusion based on lack of disclosure of heating or curing can be made.

Applicants argue that "(I)n a major difference from the current invention, these references are directed to formulations prepared by slurry mixing". However there is nothing in Boyd which explicitly recites that the maleimide dissolves prior to or upon curing and in fact given the similarity of applicants and patentees processes, similar characteristics would appear to be inherent.

Boyd's concentration of 10:50 of the bismaleimide CPMI to liquid curing agent "PPB" in examples 5 and 6 (note column 3, lines 1-11 for discussion of the second bismaleimide and column 4, lines 39-50 where the bismaleimides are said to be aromatic).

The newly cited prior art is not better than the art relied upon. Repecka was withdrawn based on applicants' amendment.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
